Point Park University Pioneers (24-4, 11-4 KIAC)

WEEKEND MATCHUPS: Point Park hosts Midway (Ky.) College on Friday for its Senior Night and hosts Cincinnati Christian on Saturday in the regular-season finale in a pair of KIAC weekend games. The Pioneers are still within reach of a share of the KIAC Regular Season title and playoff No. 1 seed with two wins while both Midway and Cincinnati Christian are battling for postseason positioning.

POINT PARK TEAMS NOTES: The Pioneers are 24-4 overall and 11-4 KIAC. They are just one win shy of tying the program record for most wins in a season, and they are currently in third place in a crowded KIAC race. Point Park can earn a share of the KIAC Regular Season title with two wins this weekend, a feat that would also earn the No. 1 seed in the KIAC Tournament Feb. 25-March 1.

Head coach: Joshua Snyder, 1st season. Record at CCU: 11-16.

CINCINNATI CHRISTIAN TEAM NOTES: Cincinnati Christian enters the weekend with a record of 11-6 overall and 6-9 KIAC. The Eagles play at Carlow on Friday night, and that result was not in at the time of this printing. CCU is in its first year as a women’s basketball program but is already making some noise in the conference. The Eagles have been good at home with a 4-4 KIAC home record and have knocked off some of the top teams in the conference at home. And although CCU is 2-5 in KIAC road games, they have a chance to turn that around this weekend.

CCU lost to Point Park at home, 66-64, on Jan. 31, and the Pioneers needed a late basket to win. CCU is an efficient offensive team ranking 16th in NAIA DII in field-goal percentage at .437. The Eagles’ defense gives up 75.4 ppg but is fairly stingy in the 3-point field-goal defense at .294.

Key Players: The Eagles have four guards who score in double digits led by G Amanda Baute (21.1 ppg, 10.4 rpg), a 5-10 transfer from NCAA DII Tiffin University. She had 24 points and 16 rebounds in the home loss to Point Park. G Beth Moorman put her average of 15 points versus the Pioneers. G Sydney Mason (13.6 ppg) and bench player G Brianna Ruffin (10.1 ppg) are other top scorers for coach Joshua Snyder.
