RELIABLE SOURCES* SAY

the Library has reliable sources. Don't take just anyone's word for it, ask a Librarian. They know. What else do they know? Credible sources. Credible, reliable sources. Exquisite sources. Sources and resources. Need a source? They're research enablers. Want the straight dope? They're credible source pushers. Get thee to a library, go and get your fix.

Group Work is All the Rage

Why is this room empty? Why, because their group work is all done. Sally has put the finishing touches on the PowerPoint. Billy has erased his Venn diagram from the White Board. Jill formatted their paper hours ago. And Zed presented his part of the research to get the project rolling. All they have left to do is present their work to the class.

Now it's your turn. Have a group project coming up? Reserve the room that will raise your group to the top of the class just like Sally, Billy, Jill and Zed.
