

Library News

Volume 11
Number 2
SPRING 2016

the newsletter with issues

Featuring

kanopy	1
Market & Industry Research Databases	2
Flipster	2
"A Little Privacy, Please."	2
The Duck-Rabbit and the Frog-Cat	3
Research Questions, Relationship Answers	4

Find Out

- ◆ Where to Go for Company and Industry Research
- ◆ Where to Drop Your Books When You're Far Away on the Other Side of the Blvd
- ◆ How to Get Some Privacy
- ◆ What Goes On In-between World Cups
- ◆ How to Meet a Librarian

The logo for Kanopy, featuring a stylized owl icon to the left of the word "kanopy" in a red, lowercase, sans-serif font.

"In Heaven Everything is Fine"

In Heaven, everything is fine, but at Point Park University everything just got a little finer with kanopy [sic]. Brand spank'n old movies, new movies, dokumentaries from the kriterion kollection, HBO, the BBk, the PBS (— you name it, we'll spell it), all under one kanopy (pronounced: canopy). Don't be an eraserhead. Get your head out of the radiator. kancel your Netflix. kall your kable provider. Phone the president. What's that spell?

kanopy! kanopy! kanopy! kanopy!

PBS

BBC

OLAY

HBO

KINO LÖRBER

SEVENTH
ART

pointpark.kanopystreaming.com

Have a Marketing Project?

The Library has all you need to create winning portfolio. Just go to the Market & Industry research databases under Articles & More on the Library's homepage to start searching your company.

Articles from premier business magazines, like Fortune, Forbes, Advertising Age, AdWeek, (just to name a few) and access MarketLine reports for company profiles, histories, SWOT analyses.

Hoovers offers company profiles, SEC filings, competitor lists, industry trends and forecasts, plus much, so much more!

Statista offer a wide-ranging variety of statistics, demographics, studies and reports, plus graphics you can download and insert into PowerPoint presentations.

Need demographic information! Look no further. The ProQuest Statistical Abstract of the U.S. is an annual book offering current demographic information on the American population. Check it out at the Library front desk.

THE WALL STREET JOURNAL.

Research your company for the latest business, industry and marketing news.

The New York Times

Search the NYT for timely business, industry and marketing news.

BUSINESS INSIGHTS: GLOBAL

Research. Analyze. Interpret. Understand.

With BI:G you can access company profiles, market share reports, industry information—and more.

International news and trade magazines, company overviews.

There's a New Book Drop in West Penn Hall

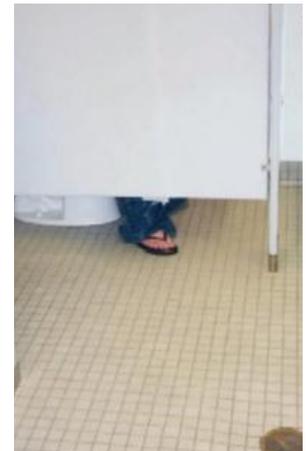

Sick and tired of crossing the Blvd? Drop your books (and almost anything you have checked out from the Library) in one of our book returns in Academic Hall or now in West Penn Hall and we'll pick up after you.

Relax. Read up on your favorite hobbies, activities, passions and other interests with the magazines in Flipster. They're free and available on all of your devices.

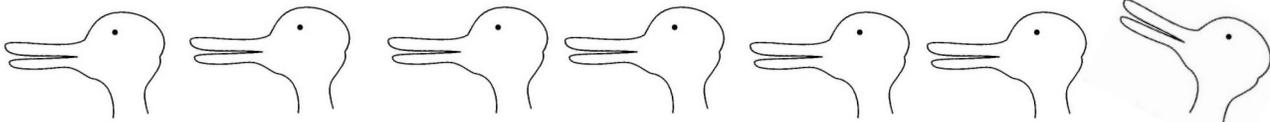

To see what's available in Flipster, just go to the Library's homepage and click the link!

Need a Little Privacy?

Incommoded by noise, traffic, singing, cellphone conversations, classes letting out, potato chip crunching, printing, stapling, hammering, car horns, loud typing, coughing and sneezing, chairs banging, movie soundtracks from the GRW, that librarian whose voice rings off the marble walls? The main floor of the Library can get loud. Reserve a Study Room on the Library homepage and do your work in peace.

Duck. Duck. Duck. Duck. Duck. Duck Rabbit.

Every four years the world anticipates the greatest sporting event since the last World Cup: the next World Cup. In between there's another sporting event in which candidates compete at mugging for cameras while trying to win the title of America's Public Servant #1. Debates and candidates for Numero Uno can be irrational at times and so it is up to an informed citizenry to vet their candidates' performances dispassionately, objectively — no matter how disgustingly putrid the performance or disgustingly and putridly biased the report of the performance. [Something I learned in Library class.] Information Literacy 101.

Surgical Strike Wipes Out Frog Cat

Just Another Case of "I Don't Swim in Your Toilet"?

Ben "Heeere's Johnny!" Carson

By JOHN AJAX, Newsletter with Issues correspondent

PICKSBURGH—I'm no professor, though I impersonate one on the internet, but even I know enough not to mix up fact and belief, to separate Church and State, the grain from the chaff, the Library from the Google — and neurological surgery from evolutionary biology. If I'm a neurosurgeon, which I'm not, although I also impersonate one on the internet, I'm not going to ask an evolutionary biologist to tinker on my brain with my pincers and scalpels, especially if I can do it myself. [— what? Putrid. - editor]

Point Park University Library

University Center
414 Wood Street
Pittsburgh, PA 15222

Phone: 412-392-3171

email: library@pointpark.edu

100% RECYCLED POST CONSUMER WASTE PRODUCT

We're on the Web!

<http://www.pointpark.edu/Academics/AcademicResources/Library>

Happy Valentine's Day!

newsletter with

Cancel my subscription, I'm over your issues.

November 2, 2013 8:08 pm via Twitter for iPhone Reply Retweet Favorite

Stuck in a research relationship nitemare?

Questioning the loyalty of your research partner?

Been around the research block and looking for something more substantial?

Meet With a Librarian

You can schedule a date on the Library homepage.

Caught a Fish this Big

The Maine Event

Governor Fights Drug Traffickers with Guillotine

By DAN KRAMPUS, Newsletter with Issues correspondent

BLAWNOX—This newsletter isn't the only thing with issues. Maine Governor Paul LePage tackles issues like a bear. And what issue is he grappling with? Drug trafficking. And how do you combat drug trafficking? Cut its head off. "What we ought to do is bring the guillotine back." Well said. Well thought-out. Logical. And no doubt well-researched.